

CHRISTMAS GIFTS TO FOREIGN PORTS MUST HAVE SPECIAL CARE

Postmaster J. J. Cunningham yesterday received from Washington full directions for friends of the soldier and sailor to guide them in sending Christmas packages from their Rock county friends.

The navy department says that parcels intended for officers and men on United States naval vessels in home waters and abroad or stationed at naval bases or stations in foreign waters should conform to the following conditions:

Parcels may not exceed twenty pounds in weight and must be prepared for mailing that the contents can be readily examined. Substantial boxes or other suitable containers should be used.

The parcels must bear the name and address of the sender in the upper left corner of the address side and be addressed in the following manner:

Name of addressee in full, together with his rank or rating. The designation of vessel or station or naval base to which addressee is attached. "Care of Supply Officer, Fleet Supply Base, Twenty-ninth street and Third avenue, Brooklyn, New York." The words "Christmas Box" or "Christmas Present."

Parcels prepared and addressed in accordance with the foregoing will be chargeable with postage at the parcel post zone rate applicable between post office where mailed and Brooklyn, N. Y. (Rate on parcels mailed in Milwaukee: 8 cents for first pound and 6 cents for each additional pound or fraction thereof.)

No perishable food products other than those packed in tin containers should be included in Christmas parcels.

Parcels may bear inscriptions such as "please do not open until Christmas," "Merry Christmas," etc., in wrapping and affixing of the Christmas packages and the like; also the names and quantities of articles enclosed, together with such other marks or words as may be necessary, for purpose of description of the articles.

Christmas parcels for naval officers and men should be mailed as soon as possible so as to reach Bush Terminal station not later than Nov. 15.

The war department is desirous that each man serving in the American expeditionary forces in Europe shall receive a remembrance from home at Christmas time, and advises that because of transportation and distribution difficulties but one parcel of standard size and weight can be sent to each.

To this end arrangements have been made with the department whereby Christmas parcels may be mailed to men in Europe under the following conditions:

Each soldier or other member of the American expeditionary forces in Europe will be allowed to receive one Christmas parcel for which purpose he will be furnished, through channels, a "Christmas parcel label" bearing the correct name and address of the soldier or member and also the name of the person designated to mail the parcel. The label will be prepared to serve as address labels for the parcels. The label furnished each soldier or other members of the A. E. F. will be sent by him to the person who is to mail the Christmas parcel. No Christmas parcel for members of the expeditionary forces in Europe will be accepted for transmission without such label.

All Christmas parcels must be of standard size, three inches by four inches by nine inches and shall not exceed three pounds in weight, for which purpose cartons of the size prescribed will be distributed through the local Red Cross chapters throughout the country. No person will be furnished a carton except upon presentation of a "Christmas parcel label" received through channels.

The parcels must contain no prohibited or unmailable articles. Perishable food products are not permitted.

After the cartons have been filled by the persons who receive them, they shall be returned to a Red Cross receiving station, where inspectors appointed by the Red Cross will carefully examine each parcel and super-vise and the like, also the names and quantities be attached, and the necessary postage stamps, the latter to be furnished by the sender of the parcel. When the parcels have thus been prepared for transmission, the Red Cross will affix to each parcel a certificate in the form of a seal showing that the parcel has been inspected and contains no prohibited or unmailable matter. Such certificates will be accepted by the postal service and army authorities as evidence that the parcels conform to the conditions prescribed. The parcels must be left at the Red Cross receiving stations, which will deposit them in the mails for dispatch.

Christmas parcels must bear the name and address of the sender and will be addressed substantially as follows:

"Christmas Box Department, Port of Embarkation, Hoboken, New Jersey."

For Organizations Expeditionary Forces:

Parcels so addressed will be chargeable with postage at the fourth class or parcel post zone rate applicable between the office where mailed and Hoboken, N. J., to be prepaid by stamps affixed. A three-pound package mailed at Milwaukee will cost 20 cents.

Parcels may bear inscriptions such as "Please do not open until Christmas," "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," and the like.

In order to assure the arrival of Christmas parcels abroad and the delivery of the addresses by Christmas all such parcels must be mailed on or before Nov. 20.

Milton News

Milton, Oct. 10.—Kenneth Bowen Randolph, son of the Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Randolph, died yesterday of Spanish influenza after an illness of two days. He leaves a wife and eight months old little girl.

Kenneth graduated at Milton college in 1916. His home was at Fredonia, N. Y. He was exempted, but recently enlisted in the engineering corps of the S. A. T. C. at Cornell University.

A few hours after receiving the telegram about the death of Kenneth a message came to the parents from the government saying that Paul Phillips Randolph is on the list of missing men on the Herman Frasch that collided with another boat on Oct. 4th. Paul was yeoman in the pay office of the Herman Frasch, bound for France. The boat sank in seven minutes after the collision, 41 of the 89 on board being rescued.

Memorial services for these young men have been postponed on the advice of the health authorities.

A host of friends throughout the country sympathize with Pastor and Mrs. Randolph in their great sorrow. John M. Home and Mr. Daniels of Milwaukee motored here Wednesday and returned the same day.

Hon. P. M. Green underwent his second operation at Mercy hospital Wednesday and came through it all right and is thought to be doing as well as could be expected. Herman Peters, the baker, is about to move to Alfred, N. Y., where he will go into the bakery business with his son.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Dunn go to Menominee today to visit their children in school at Stout Institute and friends.

Private Arthur Curtis of Camp Grant, has been transferred to the Milton college S. A. T. C. He had been a student here for some time prior to being drafted.

Monster Parade at Sturgeon Bay. Sturgeon Bay.—Twelve thousand people will participate in a monster parade here Friday night, Oct. 11. The parade is to be a feature of the Liberty loan campaign in Door county and volunteer day for the county will be Saturday, Oct. 12.

Simpson's

War Time Dress and Consistent Economies

The obligation of every woman in the land to contribute her share in the sacrifices necessary to winning the war, make it imperative to give more than ordinary thought to the question of dress.

The Best are the Real Economies

The striking individuality of these various models of Suits, Coats and Dresses, their unusual grace and beauty of contour, the clever conceits, the care and skill reflected in the workmanship and the tasteful embellishment applied are simply incomparable.

By all means see the Simpson display.

The Secret!

Smooth, white hands—sweet and clean clothes—are possible only when you use

KIRK'S AMERICAN FAMILY SOAP

This has been an open secret to Chicago housekeepers for many, many years—through three generations. It contains no free caustic to reddens and roughen the hands and destroy the clothes—washes easier, lasts longer and cleans better than cheap adulterated soaps.

Cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes

The Liberty Loan Campaign in Rock County is Lagging Badly and There Must be a Very Marked Change if we are to Make our Quota

Let us stop and examine ourselves very carefully. We have been blessed with most bountiful harvests. We have wealth in this country untold. As yet for war purposes we have just touched the edges. Apparently many do not appreciate the seriousness of the situation. When we all do, the money will come and not until then.

Many are subscribing for $50.00 bonds where they should each buy $500.00 or more. Some are subscribing for $100.00 bonds where each should buy $1,000.00 or more.

Our boys, the best in Rock County, are fighting in France and winning. The despicable Kaiser and his cruel and atrocious associates are fighting in Rock County and apparently they are winning. There is a German peace campaign in progress in America, and it must be said with regret that it is having some success.

The war is not over yet; far from it. The German army is not yet beaten, and it must be crushed now or never. It will take many months to do this.

Even if the war were ended there would be need for the billions asked. It will take years and billions, and yet more billions, to demobilize our army and reconstruct society.

Finally, the six billions asked by the government now have been pretty largely appropriated, if not actually expended, and therefore, the money must be forthcoming. If the government cannot get it from the sale of bonds, it will get it in some other way, and you know what that is.

Now come on! Open your hearts and your purses. Beat the German peace propaganda in this country and enable our boys to beat and utterly crush the German army across the sea.

The people of Rock County must rally. Let us not put off solicitors and committees with as small amount as possible, but let us give to our very limit.

SERGEANT LEO FORD WRITES FROM FRANCE

Describing, in detail, life over there, Sergeant Leo Ford, has written one of the most interesting letters received in this city to his father, William Ford.

Sergeant Ford is with an engineering company and is at present located at the 107th Army Engineers School, and in his letter he describes very clearly the life of an engineering company. He also tells of meeting Ervin Sartell and Sergeant Grimshaw, both Co. M boys, and reports that they are in the best of health. Sergeant Ford's letter follows:

"Somewhere in France, Sept. 8, 1918. Mr. William Ford, 209 East Milwaukee Street, Janesville, Wisconsin. I, S. A. Ford, father: I certainly enjoyed the delightful letter I received from you, mother and Margaret, written Aug. 6 and 11, after you and mother had visited Theresa. I received a dandy from (first of the same time, which was the last bunch of mail I received. I must tell you first of the peculiar coincidence relative to mother's letter.

"The last letter I wrote you was from the old battlement of the Marine sector, which our boys made famous. You know we saw some excitement, but that was a soft place, for we soon moved to a livelier section. I was reading her letter as a few of our aviators were going after some adventurous Boche who were flying close to us. The hum of their motors and pull-out of their machine guns were making quite a noise just as I was reading that part of her letter saying I was lucky to be in such a peaceful place. I finished the letter and was standing near the entrance of our dug-out (which was built by the Boche) when the captain came up with orders to report back to that same place. Another report to where I am now after a month's absence of real excitement.

"We left here rather hurriedly and they had been coming here for instruction in bridging, with none of the old men left for instructions. I told you how they tried to induce three of us sergeants to remain, but we preferred to go with our company and see some excitement, being 'fed up' as the boys say, on ponton boats, etc. Our order was to report back here for instructions and came as a great surprise to us. We are still members of our old company, only on detached service, which will probably keep us here till the first of the year. Bill Harris and another private came with me. They are both good men. Before I left the company six of us sergeants were called up to see the major, getting lined up for second lieutenant's commissions or a chance to return to the states as instructors. I'll be out of luck to get in on either while I am away from the company.

"Your letters were the best I have received in some time, and I enjoyed them very much. Things seem to be going very favorably for you, and your trip to see Theresa was a great pleasure to both you and mother, and I know how happy she must have been to have you with her on the occasion. Harold Christ was the last man of our regiment I saw. We always speak of the mound when together. He is not doing along fine, is with H. O., so keeps back of the big noise.

"Our mail will be delayed getting to us, so I'll get a chance to catch up on neglected correspondence. Our experiences of the past month would make quite a book, but I'll tell you as much as I think will get by. But I'm not with them now so I don't think it will be objectionable. I wish you would send Grace a copy of some of this as I won't get the time to write it again or take a chance on telling more than will get by.

"We started out by railroad and passed through some rough country, probably the poorest part of France, and saw old graves from the first advance to the Marne. Today we are celebrating the anniversary of the victory that turned the tide. We were passing through some of the better part of the country five weeks ago today. The people seemed much livelier and waved and greeted us as we passed along. Approaching Chateau Thierry the results of shell fire became more conspicuous. The old town must have been a beauty spot in its day. The church and old chateau (castle) seemed to have been special targets, but shells don't care much where they go and there are doors and windows in houses and buildings in inaccessible places. The roads and country were quite rough from shell holes and frequent as a result of careless or hurried burying details. The interesting part of the country is the history that has been made there, and to see the towns and rivers we have all been reading about recently. We camped on the Reddy farm, north of Clerges and were very glad to lie down when we got there, sound asleep. I had to wake him and talk to him a few minutes, as I had not seen him since Christmas Eve. Hollenbeck was with him; both O. K.

"We came across many old trenches which the Boche had held for the first four years of the war. They had some very large and open elaborate dugouts and caves, which we later appropriated for our own use as we moved up. The signs were all in German. For instance, 'Breslauer Graben' was a trench. There was a great deal of old German ammunition and Prussian guard equipment. We moved up near this trench in a few days. We saw one Boche being dug down two of our observation balloons just as catchy as they do it in the movies. The next Saturday we were watching our artillerists come up the road in his ration wagon. He jumped out and after shaking hands, said: 'Gosh I'm glad to see you again. I was so tired the other night. I never knew I saw you till he told me about it at noon.' He told me about the boys. F. Devine was sent back with a slight wound. He was appointed sergeant shortly later in the day. He was near the shell that killed those Boche prisoners in the cave entrance you may have read about.

"Picardy is all caves in the chalky rock that abounds there. I saw some clever carving of the Boche in their Swell place to go. I have not seen one and go. Some fellows have a natural attraction for them, these big ones with three or four service companies. The second day after I saw Mickey, being bright and clear, one of our aviators cut a wing off a Boche aviator and he came floating down like an angel. I spoke of at first. Everything like that comes in a hurry and unexpectedly in the army. We rolled in packs and started by truck for the camp. Spent the night on a train with some wounded Boche prisoners who are fed on the war and think three or four months will finish them. They speak good high grammar and seemed to have no malice toward their captors. We spent the next day looking over Paris and saw all the principal places of interest and were visited by the Red Cross and 'Y' people. Our orders read 'without delay' so at 8:30 p. m. we took a train for here. Corporal Moore saved us up with clean clothes and a good bath so we wouldn't bring anything down here. They were glad to see us back, and was assigned a platoon to instruct in the morning.

"This morning we went into town to high mass at the cathedral. Father O'Hara gave a fine sermon. The mass was for A. E. F. men.

"While roaming about town in the afternoon I met Sergeants Grimshaw and Sartell, here at army schools. Sartell is in the city, a candidate for commission, seems to have done pretty good with someone in their outfit and is making good progress. I will be able to see him when I go up. Grimshaw is at a specialists' school about eight miles the other side of us. Making them about sixteen miles apart. They were glad to be together again, for the first time since March. I certainly was pleasantly surprised to see them.

"I hope this letter reaches you O. K. I asked one of our lieutenants if all this stuff would pass and he said it would as I am detached from the outfit. Here's hoping I've spent a long evening at it with the French sergeant entertaining the other men here behind me.

"It's a rainy night, so we are pretty comfortable here under a good roof. I will take another time to answer your letters. I hope this finds you all well and happy. The old guerre is going along fine. I am Jake.

With love,
Your affectionate son,
"LEO J. FORD.

At a recent boxing carnival which was held between the fist warriors of Camp Grant and Camp Taylor near Chicago, Packey McFarland exchanged blows with Fred Dyer. Packey is the boxing instructor at Taylor, while Dyer acts in the same capacity at Grant. The two men went through three rounds of fast fighting for the benefit of more than 10,000 khaki clad fans. During the contest McFarland demonstrated his famous shift to an advantage, meeting Dyer's rushes with stone wall defense. At the end of three rounds Clarence Rowland, manager of the White Sox, who acted as referee, declared the bout a draw, much to the satisfaction of the "friendly enemies" who witnessed the clash.

CHAPTER XII.

And he slept, though he had not expected to close his eyes that night. He slept as soundly as his comrades, awakened, as was his habit, a few minutes before reveille, with a mind singularly clarified by sleep. He would ask to parade before his commanding officer in the morning and state the facts, having the rest to fate.

He was not destined to, for the same corporal who had put him on duty during his previous afternoon "off" called him five minutes before parade.

"You can leave them buttons, Weston," he said with a grin. "You won't need to polish 'em where you're going. The sergeant major wants you at once."

Mark hurried to the office, to find the sergeant major in company with one of the senior captains; then he remembered that rumors of the preceding evening had sent the Major away with the inspecting General. His interview must be postponed, then.

"Weston, you'd better get your breakfast at once," said the sergeant major. "And have your kit packed in twenty minutes. You and Hartley are going up to the front."

The senior captain temporarily commanding the detachment unbent from the official air which he was trying terribly hard to assume.

"You were specially asked for from headquarters," he said, "with another man; and I'm sending Hartley because he's your friend. They want two more men for the stretcher bearers' company. We'll be sorry to lose you, Weston."

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful, safe, "caloric" pills—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

DOCTORS URGE PEOPLE TO USE MORE IRON AND PHOSPHATES

They Come Out Strong For Phosphated Iron

Leading doctors all over the country are rapidly learning that one of the preparations they can always depend on for all blood and nerve troubles is Phosphated Iron. They have found that it gives results and can be depended upon.

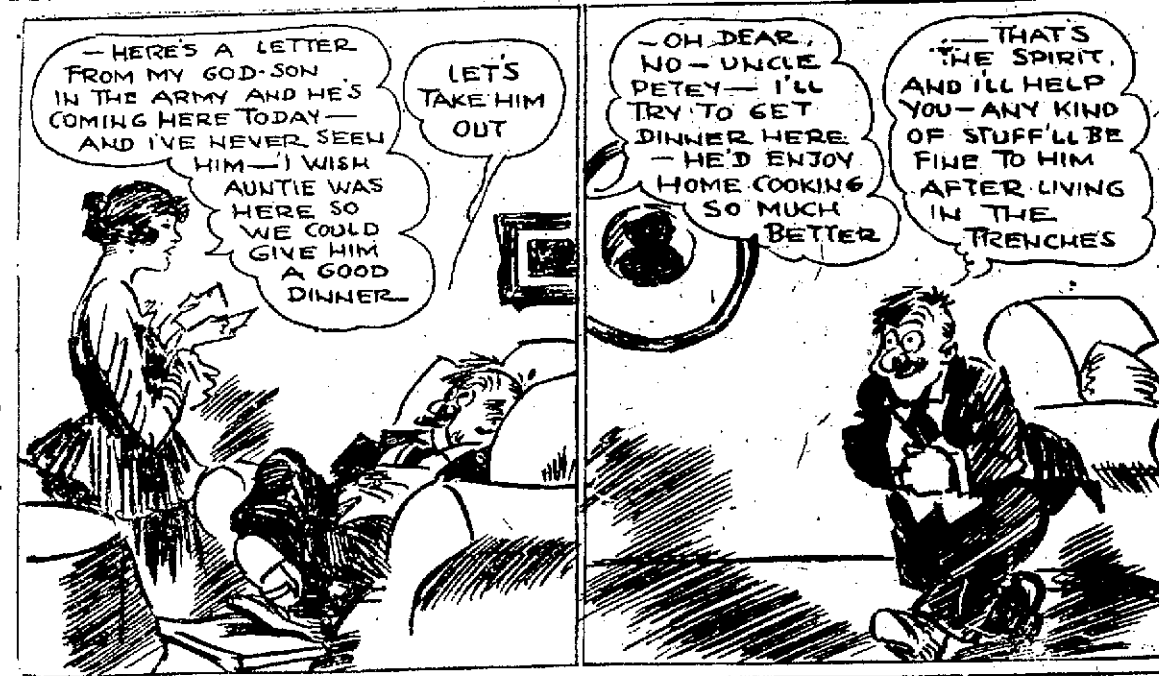

Phosphated Iron has proved a real blood and nerve-builder to so many who are all run down and dragged out, due to lack of fresh air, exercise, good food and charged poisoned blood. Scientists say Phosphated Iron builds up your body by building up your blood and nerves. Many physicians claim there would be few overworked men, nervous women, bloodless old people and pale children, were the benefits of Phosphated Iron more widely known.

There is no need of anyone going around tired out, all in nerves on edge, suffering with poor blood and lack of energy when Phosphated Iron will make you feel like a live one, make you look 100 per cent better, give you restful sleep, brace you up so you can work with ease and enjoy life once again.

Get Phosphated Iron today and start in right, you owe it to yourself and friends to make just this one effort to regain health, strength and happiness.

To insure physicians and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules. Do not take pills or tablets. Insist on capsules. Smith Drug Co., and leading druggists everywhere.

PETEY DINK—HE WON'T GET MANY POINTERS FROM PETEY'S COOKING.

Mark saluted and went out just as Hartley appeared at the door. The sergeant major enlightened Hartley briefly.

"You must have some pull at headquarters, Weston," he said. "Do you know Major Kellerman?"

"A little, sir," answered Mark grimly. "Well, he seems to know all about you, and he told the O. C. over the telephone that he must have you. He'll be your O. C. now for a while, so things ought to run smoothly for you."

"He's not a doctor, sir."

"No, but the stretcher bearers aren't a medical corps; they're attached to the—"

Mark hurried away. In the barrack room, at breakfast, the two were the subject of mingled jests and congratulations. The stretcher bearers, forming, as it were, the last supports of the infantry, shared with them the great proportion of casualties. Kellerman's scheme was perfectly clear to Mark.

He was in a wretched state of mind when the car steamed into the depot at the end of the narrow-gauge line. He descended into a city, a mushroom city of the supply and transportation department.

A sergeant and corporal, with nine or ten men of the stretcher bearers' company, were waiting for the two. The little troop was returning to the trenches after five days of relief at a rest camp.

"You're the two men from the base hospital?" asked the sergeant. "All right! Fall in. Right turn! Quick march!"

They moved away down a slope and began to pick their way along the beginning of a maze of trenches. The rear of guns, which had never ceased by night or day, and had long ceased to be noticeable, was louder now.

Suddenly the sergeant stopped. "There was ten of you," he said to the corporal.

"All here," responded the corporal. The sergeant turned to Mark.

"Where's your mate?" he asked. Mark, who had been plodding along under the impression that Hartley was following, turned round, to find that he was the last of the party. Hartley was nowhere to be seen.

The sergeant ran back a few paces, to return breathless and red in the face. "He's gone, the silly fool!" he spluttered. "Must have taken the wrong turn at the bend. Go back and get him!"

But Hartley was not at the bend. The sergeant joined Mark, incredulous. They scrambled up the bank and scanned the level road. There was no pedestrian in sight.

"He's taken the wrong turn somewhere," insisted the sergeant. "Come along with me! We've got to find him!"

They began doubling back, shouting, until they reached the end of the trench system. Still Hartley could not be found.

"If he ain't on hand I'll be broke," the sergeant grumbled. "And I'll break his head for him. You medical corps chaps are like a bunch of babies. Ought to have a nurse and baby carriage for each of you."

Reluctantly he abandoned the search and they rejoined the others. The sergeant, in an ugly mood, ordered them sharply onward, but could not resist casting occasional looks back to see if the missing man was coming. However, at last he resigned himself to what seemed inevitable. The trench widened into a deep, wide, parallel one extending in zigzags to right and left of them.

A large dugout, made shell-proof, or as nearly as possible so, by a roof of heavy beams, sandbags and corrugated steel, bore the Red Cross upon the door. Inside a number of stretcher bearers were lounging.

The sergeant halted his men and stepped into a smaller dugout beside it. In a minute he came out and beckoned to Mark to follow him. Mark entered, to find himself in the presence of the captain commanding the stretcher bearers' company, and Kellerman. He saluted and stood to attention, watching Kellerman's eyes wander over him appraisingly.

"Orderly, where's the man who came with you?" inquired the Captain briskly.

"He disappeared on the way up, sir," answered Mark.

"What do you mean by disappeared? Did you see him go back? Or was he with you one minute and gone the next?"

"I thought he was behind me, sir. I didn't see him go, or know anything about it."

The Captain, who had been holding the receiver of his telephone, and evidently waiting for his connection, got it. Mark heard him sending out a general notice of the absent man. He gave his number, and the name "Hartley."

No doubt he had mistaken it as he received it by telephone from the hospital that morning.

"You'll parade before me tomorrow morning," said Captain Keyes to the sergeant. "Till then you are under open arrest."

The sergeant saluted. "Right turn," he said to Mark.

"Wait a minute," interposed Kellerman. "I'd like to have a few words with this man, Captain Keyes."

"By all means, sir," replied the Captain, rising.

He strode, humming, to the door of the dugout, leaving Kellerman and Mark together.

"So you've enlisted under the name Weston?" inquired Kellerman.

"That is my name, sir."

"It was a shock to me yesterday, Wallace. I never expected it. Your disappearance stirred Washington a good deal. The war office would have exonerated you."

In spite of his loathing of the man, Mark felt his heart begin to hammer with hope. He looked at Kellerman with pathos in his eyes; he could not hide his feelings; he was groping amid the ruins of his world and trying to reconstruct them.

"I've no doubt you misunderstood me," said Kellerman. "My association corps, not under an alias. He is at the base now, Wallace. When he comes up next week I shall make it my business to see him about you."

"No, sir," gasped Mark. "It doesn't matter now."

"It matters to me, if not to yourself, Wallace. I cannot rid myself of the sense of partial responsibility. And as for what happened last night, you took me off my guard. I'll be frank with you. It was my duty to interest the Kenson woman. I succeeded too well. She followed me here. I couldn't bring myself to denounce her. For that I have placed my own position in jeopardy. When you appeared I did not know what to do or say."

"You found a course of action," answered Mark, torn between the desire to return blow for blow and to do justice to Kellerman, whose story left him doubtful and wondering.

"Will you accept my frank apology?" asked Kellerman, extending his hand.

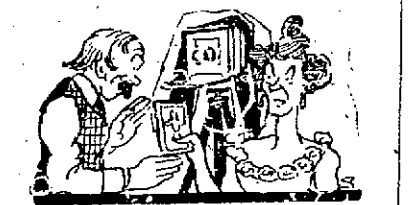

Mark took it. "I will, Major Kellerman," he answered.

And he made his way to the door of the dugout, with a feeling of warmth in his heart such as he had not known for many a month. He believed Kellerman—and yet . . . but he fought down his instinct and still believed him.

Dinner Stories

Daniel Willard, former chairman of the war industries board, said at a dinner in Washington: "The Germans are a funny people. They are winning now that the world is unjust to them. They're reminding me of an old maid who once went to a fashionable photographer and had herself photographed in a low-necked white gown. Looking at the result, the old maid looked at the photograph and said: 'This photograph doesn't do me justice.' 'Justing man!' said the photographer. 'Don't talk about justice. What you want is mercy.'

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. If desired, thus you make a full-pint, a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly seals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

Some months afterwards the son, being at the neighbors' house, stepped into the club for lunch, and meeting a friend there, invited him to join in the repast.

During the progress of the meal the young director remarked to his guest:

"We have been thinking of changing the name of our residence; it scarcely sounds well, my wife's letters to be addressed from Distillery House. Could you suggest a suitable name?"

The friend thought for a moment, and then said:

"I think I have hit upon it. What do you say to calling it Alo-Hall?"

"Now," said the medical officer to the raw recruit, "having taken your height and chest measurement, we will try the scales."

And the unsophisticated one immediately commenced, "Do, ray, me, fah," etc.

Tales of the Friendly Forest

Well, I'm glad to be able to start this story right off by saying that the blizzard stopped just in time, for it would have filled up the chimney of Billy Bunny's little house in the Old Briar Patch and put out the kitchen fire, and that would have been dreadful, for then Mrs. Bunny couldn't make the coffee or get the tea.

"Now, let's get out the shovels and clear off the path," said the old gentleman rabbit. So he and Billy Bunny set to work and by and by they made a tunnel right out to the Pleasant Meadow, where Mr. North Wind had cleared away all the snow. And do you know what he had done with it? He had piled it up along the Old Snake Fence until you couldn't see it at all.

And just as they finished their work Robin Redbreast flew by and sang this little song:

"Don't you worry when a flurry heaps the snow up high. Pretty soon, maybe noon, up his gold. The sun will shine on high. Then the snow away will go. From the grasses brown, Then you'll be safe and free To visit Rabbit Town."

"Well, that's good news," said Uncle Lucky, "for I'd like to go to the Opera House tonight and see Uncle Tom's Cabin."

"Oh, please take me," said Billy Bunny, and of course, Uncle Lucky said he would. And then he went into the house and called up his gold watch and chain, and then he was ready. So off they went, and after a while, not nearly a mile, they came to the Rabbit-hole Opera House.

And just as they were about to enter the great posters posted on the billboards and underneath it said, "Uncle Tom's Cabin. All Star Cast of Bunny Actors."

"Well, well," said the old gentleman rabbit, as he took a seat in the opera box and twisted his opera glasses around for almost a mile. "I believe that is my old friend Jack Hare, who is playing Uncle Tom."

And so it was. After the first act he came into the box and shook hands with Uncle Lucky and Billy Bunny and told them all about the great big bloodhounds.

And Billy Bunny thought Mr. Jack Hare was a very brave rabbit to take a part in a play where you are chased by bloodhounds, and then up so, too, and I'm not a rabbit, either, and neither is the man across the way, who owns a little pomeranian. Although he is always afraid of the dog, he has the heart of a lion.

THE MOST DANGEROUS DISEASE

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Danger is in sight. Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pain in the back or difficulty in passing urine—wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

SPANISH INFLUENZA--WHAT IT IS AND HOW IT SHOULD BE TREATED

Nothing New—Simply The Old Grip, or La Grippe That Was Epidemic in 1889-90, Only Then It Came From Russia by Way of France and This Time by Way of Spain.

Go to Bed and Stay Quiet—Take A Laxative—Eat Plenty of Nourishing Food—Keep up Your Strength—Nature Is The "Cure."

ALWAYS CALL A DOCTOR

NO OCCASION FOR PANIC.

Spanish influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has all the appearance of grip or la grippe, which has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates refers to an epidemic in 430 B. C. which is regarded by many to have been influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831, this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

There is no occasion for panic—influenza itself has a very low percentage of fatalities—not over one death out of every four hundred cases, according to the N. C. Board of Health. The chief danger lies in complications arising, attacking principally patients in a run-down condition—those who don't go to bed soon enough, or those who get up too early.

THE SYMPTOMS.

Grippe or influenza as it is now called, usually begins with a chill followed by aching, feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness, and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the mucous membrane, or lining of the air passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes—there is usually a hard cough, especially at night, often times a sore throat or tonsillitis, and frequently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT.

Go to bed at the first symptoms, not only for your own sake, but to avoid spreading the disease to others. Keep up your strength by plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Quinine, aspirin or Dover's powder, etc., may be administered by the physician's directions to relieve the aching. But there is no cure or specific for influenza—the disease must run its course, but Nature will throw off the attack if only you keep up your strength. The chief danger lies in the complications which may arise. Influenza weakens the body's resistance that there is danger of pneumonia or bronchitis developing, and sometimes inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affections. For these reasons, it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns—stay in bed at least two days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over fifty, or not strong,

Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little VapoRub in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use VapoRub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half-full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE.—Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine, in safe form, Menthol and Camphor with such volatile oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubeb, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

Whose Fight?

THREE MILLION men—half of them in France—many more in training.
But is this all their fight?

It takes ten men at work to keep one fighting man at the front.

It takes millions of dollars just to keep this army fed. It costs thousands of dollars every time one battery of big guns lays down a barrage.

Is it any wonder, then, that the United States is spending at the rate of fifty millions of dollars a day in war and war plans? And with that grand total as the interest on a far vaster principal, which must support this colossal cost or all this task will have been in vain, whose fight do you think this is?

The man's in the trench? The fellow's on the supply-train? The chap's on the gunner's deck?

No, it is yours!

It is your fight, Mr. Banker—yours, Mr. Manufacturer—yours, Mr. Merchant—yours, Mr. Mechanic—yours, Mr. Worker—yours, Mr. Farmer. This fight is yours, all of you who are left behind, as much or even more than it is the man's in the trench.

For that man, though three million strong, cannot raise a hand in the cause of democracy, he cannot even raise a hand in self-defense, except for you.

He is potent only as you are potent. He can fight only as you will fight. The difference is only this: his fight is expressed in nerve and ammunition, yours in work and dollars.

The Fourth Liberty Loan is the world's biggest drive back of the lines. It is the test of the financial reserves of this entire country of ours. It will gage the power that you intend to put back of the fighting men in France for the next half year or more to come.

In fact it will show the value you place on the heritage of liberty, which three million men have taken up arms to defend for you to-day.

Take care when you sign that subscription blank for Liberty Bonds that the amount you set squares as nearly as it can with all your heart acknowledges this heritage to be worth to you.
